On this significant day that marks the 75th founding anniversary of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, the progressive world and the Juche idea adherents in the DR Congo pay respects to the feats performed by the DPRK that was built and developed by President Kim Il Sung into the powerful and prosperous nation by considering the Juche idea as a basis for the last 75 years.

President Kim Il Sung cherished love for the country and made up his mind to bear the responsibility for destiny of the whole Korean nation, in his teens.

As a far-sighted leader, President Kim Il Sung smashed the Japanese invaders by organizing the Anti-Japanese Guerrilla Army and waging a merciless struggle against them, liberated his people from the violent Japanese colonial rule and applied the Juche idea brilliantly.

Thanks to the exploits performed by President Kim Il Sung, the DPRK keeps displaying might as a powerful country year after year and makes its existence clear among many countries.

His exploits were perfectly inherited by Chairman Kim Jong Il and are now successfully carried forward by Marshal Kim Jong Un.

These exploits performed by President Kim Il Sung encourage the DR Congo that should extricate itself from neo-colonialism of all kinds and, along with this, suggest many things. As shown by President Kim Il Sung who embarked on the road of the struggle to liberate the country, we should be conscious that the destiny of our nation depends on us, that no one liberates the country for us and that our destiny is in our hands.

We can be able to build the DR Congo--strong, independent and energetic--by relying on the Juche idea clarifying that man is master of his destiny and decides everything with man in the center of everything.

Impulse to develop felt by having such consciousness mainly aims to meet the demands of the people, and such impulse can be had by learning new technologies, acquiring science of several fields, building an abundant economy, making Congo their own by the Congolese themselves, exchanging experiences with progressive people, setting up factories processing materials of great demand and local factories, satisfying the need of food from more than thousand hectares of cultivated lands in the DR Congo and developing an armory that guarantees genuine independence and ensures stability against oppression.

Destiny cannot be taken back, and the brilliant Juche idea that confirms to the real situation of Congo is the best criterion in achieving its development.
